THE journals of the State unite in stating that economy is being generally practiced among all classes. The rich and the poor are living within their means, and confining their expenditures to the actual necessaries of life. This needed reform will do more than anything else to bring about a healthy state of affairs, though it may for a time lessen the business of the country. When the wheels of commerce are again fairly in motion it will be upon a substantial basis.

THE Visalia Delta asks: "When a gentleman with four or five hundred dollars in hand allows himself to be sued for a small bill, the correctness of which is undisputed, or who sends his family East on money belonging to his partners, there is ground, we think, to suspicion his honest intentions." If these conclusions came in the shape of a question, we should answer them all in the affirmative and then submit the query: Is such an individual a gentleman?

IT seems that the invention of paper money is due to a Tartar. The great traveler, MARCO POLO, five centuries ago described the money which the Grand Khan issued. Bits of paper manufactured from the mulberry bark and stamped with the royal seal were the currency of the realm. The Khan, however, has a method of preventing any depreciation of this currency. It is not only a legal tender, but whoever refuses it is considered guilty of high treason and speedily feels the headsman's axe. Who will now deny the merits of paper money?

THE civil war in America destroyed the navies of the world, and directed the attention of mankind into a new channel. England, depending upon her empire over the seas, quickly recognized the necessity of a reconstruction of her fleets. She has gone on perfecting the new system of naval architecture, resolving to carry the new principle to its final consequences. The science of gunnery has also necessarily kept pace with naval architecture, and while at the close of our contest it was thought the steel plated turret monitor was impregnable, the world must now recognize the fact that guns can be constructed of sufficient power to sink them as easily as the old smooth-bore sent the old fashioned wooden frigate to the bottom. A gun has just been completed at Woolwich, England, which far exceeds in size and power any ever constructed. The monster weighs eighty-one tons, is thirty-three feet in length, has a bore sixteen inches in diameter, and throws a solid shot weighing 1,300 pounds a distance of seven or eight miles, a full charge of powder being 250 to 300 pounds. The gun and carriage together weigh 120 tons. It is expected that the shot can pierce 18 to 20 inches of iron plating. It is calculated this gun is able to send a projectile with as much force as could be communicated by 7,000 horse-power engines to the largest ram in the British navy.

Ohio Democratic Defeat. The Democracy of Ohio have doubtless met with an overwhelming defeat. The most popular man in Ohio running as the candidate of the party which is unquestionably numerically the strongest in the Buck-eye State, has been beaten, and it is equally certain that this defeat was due to the false financia I plank in the Democratic platform advocating inflation. This result was not unexpected, and, strange as it may seem, was ardently pesired by the mass of the Democratic party throughout the United States. It is uufortunately true that a general welfare of the Democracy in the coming campaign could only be insured by the sacrifice of one of its hitherto great champions, and of an over whelming defeat in one of the greatest States of the Union. The verdict of the Ohio suffragers, and the disposal of ALLEN, removes a bone of contention that threatened a division of the entire Democratic party of the country. There will be none so bold now as to advocate inflation. Ohio was its great stronghold, and if it failed there it cannot possibly be successful in a single State of the Union. Beyond all question the Democracy will now tenaciously adhere to a currency basis upon gold and silver. The Ohio defeat will therefore prove a victory in the end, and the loss of old uncle WIL-LIAM ALLEN a substantial gain. There is a lesson too in this result that the true lover of his country independent of party issues cannot fail to view with interest. Principles have triumphed at the ballot box. The people have freed themselves from party influence, and east their ballots for what they regarded as the true tenets to be maintained. The most bitter enemy of Republican institutions must see in this repudiation of the inflation theory a striking proof of the wisdom and virtue of the masses. In a most delicate position, where it might have been plausibly argued that the success of the Democratic party was of more consequence than the defeat of a bad principle dragged into a State platform and wholly irrelevant; and on a question which is the most abstruse that can possibly come before a people, Ohio has acted as became that commonwealth, and as was hoped by the best and ablest men in the land.

Descriptive Workings of the Kausas Agricultural and Mechanical College Suggestions to our Legislature.

EDITOR HERALD: -Some time since a question was propounded in the HERALD to the candidates for Assembly from Los Angeles county concerning the introduction of industrial Education into our State University somewhat after the plan of the Kansas Agricultural College as set forth in the "Hand Book of that college.

I suppose that inqury struck the eye of some friend of the college, who is unknown to me, but who has favored me with several pies of the ollege paper called THE INDUSTRIALIST.

I clip and send you an article descriptive of the workings of the institution, as a proof that there is at least one live, industrial college within the spirit of the grant made by Congress. The article is as follows:

Every semi-occasionally the uniqueness of this Institution strikes even our stolidity a quick blow that makes one wonder at the whole performance. And this is more frequently the case since the removal of the various industrials to the Mechanical building. Before, they were scattered in different buildings, you they are side by side and on the ings; now they are side by side and can be seen in five minutes. In the literary depart-ment there are only two things that would ment there are only two things that would lead the ordinary collegian to suspect that he was not in the usual classical college.

The first is the practical drift of all the recitations. In the English rooms the classes are drilled more in every-day English, and less in the blue ethereal of celestial poetry, thau is customary. In the mathematical rooms the problems are rather those of the farm shop and store than of the astronomical farm shop and store than of the astronomiea observatory or author's study. The book-keeping and industrial drawing have a decidedly more practical trend than calculus or water-colored "art." In the botanical and or water-colored "art." In the botanical and entomological room plants and insects are considered with reference to their usefulness rather than as pre-adamitic curiosities. In the chemical and physical laboratories the practice in the use of the apparatus prepares pupils for such applications of the facis of these sciences as may be expedient to their subsequent lives.

these sciences as may be expedient to their subsequent lives.
But the thing which puzzles the old collegian the most is found in the rooms of Practical Agriculture and Practical Horticulture. Instruction in the art of farming instead of the art of Greek poetry seems queer to him. Studying Shorthorns, Devons and Jerseys; discussing Berkshires and Essex; debating the merits of different kinds of plows and the best modes of plowing, somehow seems sinbest modes of plowing, somehow seems sin-gular to him in college. And when he hears another class going through Horticulture, varieties, grafting, marketing, etc., or vegeta-ble gardening for profit, or landscape garden ing on common sense principles, he strongly inclines to the suspicion that there is more attention paid in this Institution to the training of farmers than of lawyers, which naturally raises a doubt whether it is all proper for an industrial college to extend the naturally raises a doubt whether it is all proper for an industrial college to attempt to give an industrial education without going over exactly the same studies, in precisely the same way, that professional colleges have used for centuries in giving a professional ed An hour with a class of young ladies who are studying the best methods of making butter, cheese, etc., is apt to convince him that. whatever may be his doubts, the authorities of this Institution are decidedly free from similar ones, and are driving ahead just as if they knew what they are about, being, in fact, appointed or employed with the express understanding that they shall know what they are about!

But when the visitor sees the pupils inter-changing industrial with the literary recita-tions, his old ideas are apt to give way a lit-classes reclicking away on telegraph instruments, or sending or receiving messages, or vigorously calling or a down-town office. In the next room, the sewing machines, nathenext room, the sewing machines, patterns, capes, drawing boards and scissors make one think that by some mistake he has got into the work-shop of a dress-making establishment. Such is the act, but there is no mistake. It is business and means business right along—only the girls are studying dress making instead of working for the profit of an employer.

In the next rooms are the pianos, guitars and organs, which bring one back to "female college" memories once more, and which suggest the fact that there is nothing in the Constitution of the Ventuck State of the Constitution of the Constitutio stitution of the United States or the laws of Kahsas preventing the industrial classes from havingall the employment and "accomplishments" that have been conceded to the butterfly classes.

But, as we said at the outset, every now and then the univerlance and queerness of the then the unusualness and queerness of the whole thing comes over us like a gust of cold air in a hot day. It is so unlike the "college" life with which most are familiar. As a boy we should have seized upon such opportunities with the same avidity that we did on games of foot-ball and a chance for a serenading party. ing party. As a man, the practical benefit which such an education as this will be to which such an education as this will be to the one hundred and forty-six students now present, when they are called to the discharge of the stern duties of real life, seems every day to be greater—and we wish we "were a boy again," just to substitute its thorough drill for that blessed old drill in Horace and Plate, bird-track geology, and "abstract"

Plato, bird-track geology and "abstract" mathematics. It is a good plan to "educate" a boy so that when he becomes a man, and is thrown from the commencement platform of real life, like a kitten from a table, he can "fall on his feet." It is easier for him to sto? that way than on his back, and he can star on the hunt of new quarters sooner. The problem, "what shall we do with our boys" will be solved when boys are trained after the manner indicated by the above. It seems criminal that the "compliment to ou ommon school system," -The State University does not set the example and observe the

At 3 o'clock this afternoon a vast assemblage of ladies and gentlemen convened near the corner of Eddy and Jones streets to view the ceremonies of laying the corner stone of the First Baptist Church. At that hour members of the Grand Lodge of Masons, now holding daily sessions in this city formed in front of the Temple, at the corner of Montgomery and Post streets, and from there marching in line to the site of the church edifice, where the ceremonies of laying the corner stone were performed according to Ma-

The election which was held yesterday by the shareholders of the Granger's Bank and Insurance Company for Directors to serve the ensuing year was a most enthusiastic one, and between 2400 and 2500 shares were represented, from all sections of the State. The hall where the polls were held was crowded all day long, and it was not until two this morning that the clerks closed the boxes and begun the labor of counting the votes. There were five tickets in the field, and the task was no inconsiderable one. The result announced to-day is as follows: Directors, Thomas Mc-Connell, G. W. Colby, A. D. Logan, I. V. Webster, C. I. Cressey, J. C. Merrifield, C. S. Abbott, John Lewel-ling, J. C. Steele, Thos. Fowler, F. J. Woodward. Directors of Insurance Company, J. D. Blanchard, J. G. Gardner, G. P. Kellogg, A. W. Thompson, G. W. Colby, J. C. Merri-field, J. C. Steele. The Directors elected immediately selected the following officers from among themselves, to manage the affairs of the company during the ensuing year: J. D. Blanchard, President; J. G. Gordon, Vice President; F. K. Rulesey and A. W. Thompson, attorneys; G. P. Kellogg, Treasurer.

As the French sloop of war Volta was leaving port yesterday, and when about half a mile North of North Point, one of the sailors jumped overboard, and disdaining to make use of the life buoy which was thrown to him, struck out boldly for the shore. with the evident intention of escaping. A boat was lowered and the daring deserter captured, but after being taken on board his vessel he broke away from his captors and jumped into the bay again. The second attempt was as fruitless as the first, however, and the insubordinate tar was forcibly carried back to the sloop. The affair was witnessed by a number of people, who could but admire the fellow's pluck, foolhardy though it was. A few days ago Adam Oliver, lately arrived here from Lawrence, Kansas, and rented a room on Clay street. #### A Los Angeles County Bankrupt.

We find the following notice of one of the latest Los Angeles bankrupt, in the San Francisco Bulletin:

On the 28th day of July last, M.

Frankel, a resident of Los Angeles county, filed a petition in bankruptcy, which stated that he was unable to pay his debts but that he was willing to surrender all his estate and effects for the benefit of his creditors. On the 4th of September, the District United States Court appointed Michael H. Myers assignee of his estate, and all his bankruptcy property was transferred to him. This was subsequently sold by the assignee at private sale, realizing the sum of $9,700. Yesterday J. H. Steinhart, filed a petition to have these proceedings vacated. The petitioner sets forth that when Frankel filed his petition and for a long time previously, he was of unsound mind, and incapable of managing his business affairs; and when he filed the petition he had not sufficient intelligence about his affairs to know whether he was a bankrupt or not; nor did he know what the petition contained or for what purpose it was filed. Steinhart avers that Frankel was not a bankrupt, and that the property sold by the assignee was worth $20,000,gold coin, while the debts against the estate only amounted to $10,000. On the 25th of September Frankel was adjudged by the County Court of Los Angeles to be insane. The same day the Court appointed Steinhart guardian of the person of Frankel. Upon this petition Judge Hoffman issued an order that the assignee, Myers, show cause on the 12th instant why Frankel was not of unsound mind when he filed his petition, It was further ordered that all proceedings be stayed meantime.

The condition of Fort street, for two blocks from Second to Fourth street, is disgraceful. It is simply a bed of dust, and yet the property-owners have paid for a good grade. It is not wise to ask who is to blame, but it may be pertinent to inquire why the street is in such a condition. If the gravel will not make a solfd street, don't use it; if the contractor will not do good work, do not accept it and pay him. If the present grading is not done well, it will be in order to ascertain who is responsible to the property-owners for poor grading.

SEWING MACHINE

Perhaps they may wish a harder name for them when their merits are fully known to the people of Southern California. Though hardly three months since its introduction in Los Angelee, it has already become a pet machine, and in ease in running and perfection in construction it stands unrivaled. In the Eastern States it has already taken the front rank in sewing machines, and is fast taking the place of the older and harder running machines. In the manufacture of their family machines they have increased from 49,000 to 85,-000 in the past four months, and to-day with their large facilities for turning out more than 250 machines per day, the Remington folks are 2,000 behind in filling orders and are obliged to enlarge their works. In the manufacture of their rifles, revolvers, agricultural implements, type writer, etc., their name has become a synonym of perfection in work and material, and everyone knows when it bears the stamp of Remington it is good and up to-not behind-the times. Do the Singer folks base the merits of their machines upon the sales of former years, the Remington base theirs upon the merits of FOR SALE their machine as it stands to-day, and are ready to try it against any machine in the

WONDERFUL ARITHMETICAL CALCULATION! A Sewing Machine Factory Turns ou

One Hundred Machines per day

More than it is Capacitated to Make!!!

THE SINCER M'F'C CO'S Sewing Machine Agent has no doubt that the Remington agent justly anticipates harder names for his "pet" machine when it is understood that it is neither "The Singer Improved" nor an "improvement on the Singer." By referring to one of our dailies I find that this soft, noiseless, "pet" machine has been introduced into Los Angeles at a much earlier date than the agent states. (This may be owing to a defect of memory).

The Remington agent has made a rather startling statement to the public in his latest advertisement to this effect—that the Remington S. M. Co. in the manufacture of their family machines have increased from 49.600 to 85,000 in the past four months, and in the to 85,000 in the past four months, and in the same paragraph says that the factory is only capacitated to make 250 per day; thus allowing every working day during said period I find that he gives the "Remington folks" eredit for 100 machines more per day than the Factory, with all its "large facilities," can produce—a pretty hard strain on the most fertile imagination. The Remington Agent asks the "Singer folks" a very important question, namely: Do they base the merits of their machines upon the sales of former years? As I am the only representative of the Singer Mfg. Co. in this county I shall answer the question. The Singer Mfg. Co. points with just pride not only to their sales in the past but also to the only to their sales in the past but also to the fact that those sales have constantly increased up to the present. I hold to the rule that the comparative sales of a machine constitutes a correct criterion of its merits and a true index of its popularity.

I shall have no difficulty in tracing back the history of the Singer Sewing Machine, for

It Never Changed its Original Name, And in showing from the best authenticated public reports that it excels all others for all purposes, I will only go back to the year 1871, In that year the Singer Mnfg. Co. sold

181.260 Machines, in 1872 they sold

219,758; In 1873 their sales reached

232,444. And the authenticated report for the year 1874 (the latest obtainable) shows that the
